

Discover Photography That Speaks YOU

PERSONAL BRANDING PHOTOGRAPHY

with Adrian Chira

A thoughtful experience designed around your story.

Some people come to update their LinkedIn profile.

Others are starting a business, changing careers, returning to work, or stepping into a new chapter.

Whatever brings you here, we believe great photos begin with understanding the person behind them.

BEFORE WE TAKE ANY PHOTOS

Every session starts with a conversation.

We take the time to get to know YOU — your journey, your work, what matters to you, and what you would like your photos to reflect.

There is no script and no pressure. Just space to talk, reflect, and share where you are today and where you are heading next.

Our clients tell us this part of the experience helps them see their own story more clearly.

"Adrian and I had a home photoshoot for personal branding material. He brings a naturally perceptive, keen eye and a truly collaborative and encouraging spirit. His demeanor puts a normally camera-shy person, like myself, quickly at ease. Very much pleased with the end products! The depth and tone of color, in particular. Highest recommendations." — Namku K., Architectural Designer

"I had the wonderful experience of a photoshoot with Adrian and Adelina at Advanced Talent, and it was a pleasant experience, full of conversation about what I wanted to reflect in my new professional profile picture. Adelina found the perfect words for the description I gave her about my current personal and professional development, and that helped her understand my ideal photo, one where I could recognize myself 🌟📷🔍🔧." — Claudia, Paralegal

YOU CHOOSE 'WHERE' BECAUSE THE PLACES YOU FREQUENT MATTER

The places we take your photos are never random.

A city you love.

A neighbourhood that feels familiar.

A place connected to your work,
your interests, or an important part of your journey.

These details often make a difference.

They help create photographs that feel natural and personal rather than staged.

Together, we find locations that feel right for you and the story you want to tell.

THERE IS NO NEED TO KNOW HOW TO POSE.

Most of our clients are not used to being in front of a camera.

The session unfolds naturally through conversation, walking, and exploring different locations.

Along the way, many people find themselves talking about career changes, personal milestones, new goals, or lessons learned along the way.

Just like our intention, the photographs go beyond just a collection of images but a reflection of those moments.

FOR THE CHAPTER YOU'RE IN NOW

The goal isn't to make you look like someone else.

It's to capture you at your best. We are committed to helping you feel comfortable, confident, and connected to your own story.

With Adrian behind the camera and Adelina by your side, the experience is designed to feel just as meaningful as the photographs themselves.
